About kalacho

Cocoa & chocolate, built in India

Kalacho is a B2B bean to bar chocolate brand sourcing cacao directly from South Indian farmers and crafting premium couverture chocolate at our own manufacturing unit. Crafted for those who want to make every creation special

How it started

It started with a belief

On April 18th, Kalacho asked a simple question: why should India only consume premium chocolate instead of making it? With cocoa grown across India's diverse regions and climates, we're building chocolate locally starting from the bean, not the import.

Why kalacho

Don't hide the cocoa

Good chocolate starts with pure, unalkalised ingredients true to cocoa's natural character. We're asking what Indian cocoa can become a couverture chocolatiers choose, a chocolate pastry chefs trust. From Indian cocoa, to Indian chocolate, to the world.

The Collection

FOUR FORMS. ONE BEGINNING. COCOA

Couverture Chocolate

Where cocoa becomes chocolate

A finished, professional chocolate ready to melt, temper, mould, coat or enrobe in five expressions.

Cocoa Mass

The heart of chocolate

Roasted cocoa nibs ground into a smooth, concentrated cocoa paste carrying the natural balance of cocoa solids and cocoa butter.

Cocoa Butter

The natural fat of cocoa

The natural fat obtained from cocoa beans shaping chocolate's flow, texture, melt and structure.

Cocoa Powder

The essence of cocoa

Our cacao powder is finely milled, offering a rich aroma, deep chocolate flavor, and natural color, perfect for baking, beverages, desserts, and chocolate uses.
